Scripture Reading

“I am a rose of Sharon, a lily of the valleys.”

(Song of Solomon 2:1)

“Then Pilate took Jesus and had him flogged. The soldiers twisted together a crown of thorns and put it on his head.

They clothed him in a purple robe and went up to him again and again, saying, “Hail, king of the Jews!” And they slapped him in the face.”

(John 19:1-3)

Choral Anthem

“Look to the Rose”

Joseph M. Martin

Choral Anthem

“Amazing Grace”

arr. Lee Turner

Responsive Reading

Leader: God of morning and evening, God of sunshine and rain, you possess all the rhythms of our lives.

People: In the evening you are the cradle of the world, and in the morning you are our comforter.

Leader: You are here when we go away, and you are waiting when we return.

People: You are the source from which our tears run unguarded and the place from which our holy laughter rises.

Leader: You are the Creator, Redeemer, and Sustainer of our faith.

People: We claim that faith this morning, convinced that it is real, not by the persuasion of our minds, but by the stories our lives are writing.

Leader: We believe, O God, but sometimes our days are fragile. Our language is composed of sighs because there are no words. Our vision is blurred because we do not know what the week will bring.

People: Even when our faith is strong, we feel the pain of others, and it reminds us that we do not move through life alone.

Leader: For lo, you are with us always, even to the end of the age.

Solo

“It Is Well with My Soul”

Sandra Howard, piano

Choral Anthem

“Assurance”

arr. John Ness Beck

Hymn # 506

“In Christ Alone”

IN CHRIST ALONE

Benediction

“Our Hope for Years to Come”

Mary McDonald

*O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come;
Be thou our guard while life
shall last,*

And our eternal home! Amen!

Postlude

“Gavotte”

Samuel Wesley
